

PLANS FOR THE NEW LIBRARY

To Be First Building of Classic Architecture in the City.

NAME OF CARNEGIE

Has a Beautiful Front Elevation Ornamented by a Fancy Cornice.

THE PLANS IN DETAIL

The complete set of plans for the new library building is in the city and will be submitted to the library board in the near future for approval. Some alterations and changes may be made but they will doubtless be slight.

The new library will be the first building of classic architecture in the city. The front elevation is a beautiful one and is ornamented by a fancy cornice. In the center at the top is a laurel wreath and underneath are the words "Janesville Public Library."

Beneath the front second story window is the name "Carnegie."

The Eldred Memorial. On a line with this inscription at the center of the north wing are the words "Eldred Memorial." On the south wing provision is made for another inscription. All of these inscriptions find effective settings in appropriate designs.

On either side of the stairs which lead to the main entrance are tall, stately columns, modeled after the famous Greek building, the Parthenon. The main stairways are in the front vestibule back of which on the first floor is the delivery lobby. There are two entrances to this lobby from the vestibule and by using the south entrance adults need not come in contact with the children. The children find entrance to their rooms on the north side of the vestibule and their museum and reading room is also connected with the delivery lobby by double doors which cut off all connection between the main library and the children's department when closed.

The Book Stacks.

Back of the delivery lobby are the book stacks which occupy the rear center section of the building. Between the book stacks and the lobby is the librarian's desk which is curved. At either end of the desk are turn stiles and open shelves can be the rule or not as seems advisable. The south end of the building on the first floor is devoted to the main reading room, divided from the delivery lobby by sliding glass partitions. Back of the reading room is the reference alcove, having access to both the reading room and the book stacks, the librarian's room, however being between the reference alcove and the reference stacks.

Devoted to Children. The north end of the building is the Eldred Memorial and is devoted to children's work on every floor, although the art room on the second floor is not distinctively for the children.

The children's museum and reading room is at the front end of the building and the children's library proper occupies the rear. The desk of the children's librarian is between these two rooms and people passing from one room to the other must go through one of the two turnstiles in front of this desk.

Ground Floor Plans.

The ground floor plans allow for two wards and a woman's toilet, the latter being at the rear of the building between the book stacks and the children's library and is for the use of both women and girls. There is also an iron stairway in the rear of the building connecting the stack room on the main floor with the one in the basement and also leading to the hallway on the second floor. Provision is made in the stack room for the growth of the library. The book stacks are seven feet high and above the first tier there will be a platform providing for another duplicate arrangement of stacks.

On the Second Floor

On the second floor the entire south end of the building is devoted to an auditorium which can be divided into two rooms by means of a sliding partition. The north end, which belongs to the Eldred Memorial will be an art gallery, this being in accordance with the wish expressed in Mr. Eldred's will that his bequest should be used for book or art purposes if other provision was made for the library.

This will fill a long felt want and will be an addition of inestimable value to the artistic life of the city. The auditorium will have a seating capacity of about 300 persons and will be provided with a large platform, giving splendid opportunity for literary addresses and educational lectures.

The center of the building on the main floor will be devoted to four seminary rooms for history, literature biography and science respectively, all the reference books on each subject being placed in the proper room. This provides a place where entire classes may go to consult authorities and carry on their work. It is also expected that study clubs will find accommodations on the second floor in one of the seminary rooms or in the two rooms into which the large auditorium can be converted.

Club Rooms in Basement.

In the basement plan, the part of the basement belonging to the Eldred Memorial will be devoted to two club rooms, one for boys and one for girls. Here work of practical educational value can be carried on, such as sewing classes for the girls and such juvenile club work as tends to interest children in the best things of life.

The rear center of the basement will be devoted to book stacks where books not frequently consulted and public documents will be placed. The basement plan provides for a receiving and shipping room, a men's toilet and a row of bicycle racks in the lobby.

Plans Very Complete

The set of plans is very complete and includes nearly a dozen sheets. Besides each elevation, the floor plans and the roof plans, longitudinal sections are shown for the benefit of the contractor. The cost of each part of the work is also estimated. Architect Jennings is taking a trip through the east looking up libraries and will be absent about a week longer. On his return the work will be rushed as speedily as possible.

OVER TEN MILLION LOSS AT ANTWERP

Royal Entrepot, Largest Warehouse in the City, Burns Down—Panic Among People.

Antwerp, June 6.—The royal entrepot, the largest warehouse in the city, was destroyed by fire today with a loss of ten million dollars. Panic reigned for a time among the people of the thickly settled district.

DR. JOHN BASCOM MAKES A SPEECH

Former President Will Present Scholarship Badges of Phi Beta Kappa This Evening.

Madison, Wis., June 6.—Dr. John Bascom of Williamstown, Mass., president of the university from 1874 to 1887, addressed the students at the gymnasium yesterday afternoon. The students gave the popular educator a hearty reception and frequently applauded his remarks. This is the first time Dr. Bascom has been back in Wisconsin since he left fourteen years ago.

Mr. Bascom tonight will present the handsome scholarship badges of the Phi Beta Kappa to the students selected for the honor. Among others is Harriett Bostwick of Janesville.

Dr. L. W. Austin, assistant professor of physics in the State university, who is at present studying in Europe has resigned his position here. Acting President Birge has just received a letter from Prof. Austin with his resignation stating that he wished to remain in Europe at least another year pursuing his studies.

CEYLON COURT FOR BANKER MITCHELL

Chicago Man Buys the Handsome Summer Resort Property at Lake Geneva.

Lake Geneva, June 6.—John J. Mitchell has purchased Ceylon court, the building brought from their native country by the Ceylon commissioners at the World's Fair. Sixty acres of ground, covering Ceylon Point, one of the most charming spots on the lake, go with the house.

Mr. Chandler, the former owner of the court, who with his brother-in-law H. G. Selfridge, owns several hundred acres at various points on Lake Geneva, will at once begin the construction of another summer place there for his own use. Very little changes with the exception of fitting it for the purposes of a modern American dwelling, has been made in the structure since it was brought to Chicago from Colombo. The famous octagonal hall, with its massive carved pillars and and oil paintings on wooden walls has been preserved complete and the graceful cupolas and wide verandas have also been retained.

Capt. Carter Witness Suicides. Philadelphia, June 6.—Robert S. Burnett, a civil engineer of Savannah, one of the principal witnesses for the defense of Capt. O'Brien Carter, committed suicide last night at the Green hotel. He has been depressed since Carter's imprisonment.

FAVORS MCKINLEY FOR THIRD TERM

BUSINESS INTERESTS DEMAND HIS REELECTION.

Senator Depew Has Arrived in Chicago—Talks to the Reporters in Favor of a Third Term for the Present Incumbent—A Caesar is Impossible in This Country.

Chicago, June 6.—"President McKinley has no opposition, no enemies and scarcely any critics. Why not elect him for a third term?" asked Senator Chauncey M. Depew at the Auditorium last night.

The genial gentleman arrived in Chicago from New York late last evening. He brought with him a good story or two and several striking ideas.

Senator Depew declared that he had talked with no politicians and had consulted no one about a third term for McKinley. He said that it was not an idea of the president's, and that a third term nomination never would be accepted by him unless at the call of his party and his country.

His Talk With Blaine

"In the last conversation I had with James G. Blaine," the senator continued, "he told me that never again would a president be re-elected to a second term, because the distribution of patronage made deadly enemies, while the policies chosen raised up critics. That was true of Harrison. It is false of McKinley, who somehow secured friends instead of enemies, and silenced all but the capricious carpers by the wisdom of his policies."

"No, there is nothing in the written or unwritten constitution forbidding a third term. Washington simply wished to retire to his farm. He told the people that he had done his duty eight years and that the government was in such shape that it could get along without him. The matter did not come up again until 1880 when the question was not merely of the nomination of Grant a third time but whether Conkling should crush out his enemies. Those enemies, fighting for their lives, raised the cry of Caesar."

Dictatorship Impossible. "Now a Caesar is not possible. A president under our regime is elected so late in life that he could not be elected so many terms under any circumstances."

"New York will have two candidates, Governor Odell and Vice President Roosevelt. Senator Fairbanks is an able man. Senator Hanna is a great force. But McKinley alone has no enemies."

"The democratic party, like the liberal party in England, does not exist. To exist a party must be united. The democratic leaders no longer criticize us; they fling mud at one another."

COUNTY DIVISION LAW TO BE TESTED

Lumbermen and Others Will Seek to Annul New Law Establishing County of Gates.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 6.—Lumbermen and others who have big financial interests at stake have decided to begin proceedings in the courts to test the law passed by the legislature last winter providing for the division of Chippewa county and the formation of a new county to be known as Gates. The men who will make the fight claim that the law is illegal because it clearly contravenes the constitutional provision prohibiting breaking of county lines in forming assembly districts. The law provides that what was known as the Second Chippewa district shall be composed of a portion of Chippewa county and all of Gates county.

There are several ways in which a suit may be brought to test the law. The governor is required within thirty days after the publication of the law to appoint county officers. When these officers are appointed suit may be commenced the right of any or all of them to act. Or the town chairmen, who compose the board of directors and are directed to make the division, may be enjoined from proceeding and the matter may thus be brought into the court for decision.

LABOR TROUBLES.

The masters demanded a reduction of a shilling a day.

Mrs. E. O. Fleck and daughter are the guests of relatives in Maquoketa, Iowa.

SUFFRAGISTS FINISH WORK.

Effort to Move the Annual Convention From Washington Falls Minneapolis, Minn., June 6.—The National American Woman Suffrage association put in the last day of its convention here at steady work. The amendment to the bylaws making the annual convention movable instead of in Washington every year, was defeated on the appeal of Susan B. Anthony, who wanted the conventions to be object lessons to congress. Invitations were received for the convention of 1903 from Milwaukee and Atlantic City and from Miss Anthony in behalf of New Orleans. It was decided that a conference should be held in some state capital in the years of Washington conventions, and the invitation of the exhibition management at Charleston, S. C., for such a conference next year was received.

BOERS SUSTAIN A DREADFUL DEFEAT

Encounter the British Under Col. Wilson Near Warmbad, and Lose Supplies and Cattle.

Pretoria, June 6.—A portion of a Boer commando, numbering four hundred were surprised and defeated near Warmbad by two hundred and forty British under Col. Wilson. The Boers lost thirty-seven killed and one hundred taken prisoners. The British lost three killed and fifteen wounded. All of the Boer supplies, including eight thousand cattle, were captured.

Pretoria, June 6.—A party of Kitchener's scouts on Sunday surprised and captured the Erasmus Lagera thirty miles north of the Pienars river, in the Transvaal. Forty prisoners were taken and seven thousand cattle and sixty wagons captured. The Boers lost seventeen killed and several wounded; the British two killed and nine injured.

PAYMASTER ARTHUR DEAD IN A HOTEL

Well Known U. S. Army Officer Dies in a Mysterious Manner in a Cleveland Hotel.

Cleveland, June 6.—Major George Arthur, assistant paymaster of the United States, son of P. M. Arthur, chief of the Brotherhood of Engineers, died suddenly in the White House this morning.

He walked in at two o'clock, sat in the office chair, fell asleep and later when the clerk attempted to awaken him blood gushed from his mouth. The physicians said it looked like poison, but there was apparently no indication of foul play as Arthur had a watch, money and diamonds. He recently returned from the Philippines where he spent two years as paymaster.

THE FIRE RECORD.

Fresh Air Home Burned.

Cincinnati, Ohio, June 6.—Cincinnati's Fresh Air Home has burned to the ground. In years past notable visitors from other cities were wont to drive five miles from this city's center to the Anderson homestead, one of the local mansions of that period. It stood upon the summit of perhaps the highest of Cincinnati's surrounding hills. As time went on it was supplanted by modern structures in other parts of the city and the old Anderson mansion was deserted by the family. In late years the family devoted it to benevolent purposes, and it became Cincinnati's Fresh Air Home.

Hundreds of women and children from poor districts were there each summer. Aged persons were barely rescued from the burning building.

Great Fire Raging at Antwerp.

Antwerp, June 6.—The Royal Entrepot, the largest warehouse in the city, has been destroyed by fire, causing a loss of $10,000,000. A large quantity of American goods, especially cotton, tobacco, and machinery has been burned. It is feared that the fire will spread to neighboring buildings, as a strong wind is blowing.

NETS IN WISCONSIN LAKES

Winnebago Lake Fishers Take Advantage of Change in Wards.

Oshkosh, Wis., June 6.—During the interval between the going out of the old game wards and the entering upon duty of the new ones appointed by Governor LaFollette netting was carried on in Lake Winnebago and surrounding waters with impunity, and many tons of fish were shipped away. Now, however, the new deputies have gotten into action, have chartered a launch and are prosecuting a vigorous war against the offenders. During the present week many miles of nets and set lines have been taken up and destroyed and many barrels of contraband fish have been seized and sold.

Chaffee Confers With McArthur. Manila, June 6.—General Chaffee came ashore today and conferred in private with General MacArthur regarding the situation in the Philippines. Chaffee will succeed MacArthur as soon as the civil government is inaugurated.

RUTH FIFIELD WON THE PRIZE

Eighth Grade Pupil with Highest Standing in U. S. History.

THE CLASS TOKEN

Prometheus in Alabaster Will Be Formally Presented to Graduates Tonight.

TO AWARD DIPLOMAS

Tonight the fifty-seven young people who make up the class of 1901 will receive the coveted rolls of parchment which will sever their connection with the Janesville High school as students. The class makes its last appearance before the public as a class and when the young ladies and gentlemen leave the school building this evening school life for many of them will be over and their attitude toward the High school will be a new one.

Singing of Class Songs. The program tonight will include those exercises always reserved for the last evening, the singing of the class song, the address to the Board of Education, the class poem and the presentation of the class token. The token which this year's class will leave with the High school as its gift is a handsome piece of statuary in alabaster.

The subject of the statuette is Prometheus, one of the famous characters in classic mythology, fabled by the poets to have surpassed all men in knowledge and to have formed men from clay to whom he gave life with fire stolen from heaven. The token is about the same size as the one given last year and will be placed on the opposite side of the entrance to the assembly room.

Miss Ruth Fifield Winner. A pleasing feature of the exercises tonight, not down on the program, will be the presentation of the medal offered by the Daughters of the American Revolution to the eighth grade pupil receiving the highest standing in United States history.

The winner is Miss Ruth Fifield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Fifield, the representative of the Washington school in the contest. The competition has been a most complete test and Miss Fifield has won fairly and in a very praiseworthy manner.

The method of conducting the competition has been essentially one that must give satisfaction. Each of the eighth grades of the city was represented by the pupil attaining the highest standing during the year, and these pupils wrote on a competitive examination given at the high school. In one grade there was a tie, so there were four contestants, Ruth Fifield, Mabel Charlton, Edward Hyzer and Thomas Mulligan.

The examination given was a New York state examination and the papers were marked by A. E. Cance, of the High school faculty, who knew none of the pupils. While only one could win, her three contestants deserve honorable mention and high praise for the excellent work done both in the class room and in the decisive examination. In the latter Ruth Fifield earned a marking of 96, Thomas Mulligan of 94 and both Mabel Charlton and Edward Hyzer of 92. The medal race was a close one and both winner and losers deserve congratulations.

Another Magnificent Audience. Another magnificent and representative audience gathered in the High school gymnasium last evening to hear the second program in the series of commencement exercises. During the day the seating capacity of the pretty auditorium had been increased by the addition of a large number of chairs, yet all of the seats were taken and many people stood up during the exercises.

One of the splendid features of the newly finished room is its ventilation and in spite of the fact that it was packed almost to suffocation, the atmosphere was fresh and cool and the audience was comfortable. This supply of fresh air came principally from the fan room in the basement into which 1,000 pounds of ice and air was pumped from the refrigerator by means of the ventilating fans and shafts in the auditorium.

The program went very smoothly last evening, there being none of the awkward litches which worried the participants on the first evening. The absence of the unpleasant details had a beneficial effect on the graduates who appeared last evening and the exercises were exceptionally good, all the numbers being creditable ones. One of the notable features was the general distinctiveness and directness of delivery which almost without exception, added its charm to each of the numbers.

High School Chorus

The program opened happily with a double number, "Silent Night" by Barnby and "Good Night Beloved" by Piusini, sung by the High School chorus club under the direction of Prof. W. F. Gaskins with Miss Mae Treat at the piano. Both selections were beautiful, requiring delicacy of expression and perfect control of voice. The choir sang exquisitely, its work being a credit to its members and to its instructor and the delighted audience demanded an encore, but no response was given.

What the World Owes the Greeks

Forest H. Woodside was the first of the graduates to appear before last evening's audience. He presented in able, forceful manner a strong and well written oration on "The Bequest of the Greeks to Modern Civilization." He asserted that the world is indebted to the Greeks for the models of the greatest perfection in architecture, philosophy, oratory, art and literature. The Hellenic masters rose far beyond the utmost reach of modern genius in those marvels of beauty and grandeur which now give the laws of taste to all the civilized world. The Greeks were a race of artists. Mr. Woodside continued by giving individual instances of immortal Greek achievement and by speaking of Archimedes, Euclid, Aristotle, Homer and other great men to whom the world of today is indebted.

The American Flag

"The Evolution of the American Flag" given by Elena A. Fish was a pleasingly effective number. The speaker traced the history of the formation of the flag from early colonial times. In 1643 when the colonies of New England united the king designed a flag for them but in 1765 when the stamp act was resisted each colony adopted a separate flag. At the battle of Bunker Hill two beautiful flags were used, the Pine Tree flag and the Rattlesnake flag.

The Washington Life Guards organized in 1776 and after the siege of Boston they had a white flag painted in oils. Then came the flag, designed by Washington, used in the first part of the Revolutionary war and was a combination of stripes for the colonies and the Union Jack. Miss Fish then told the well-known history of the flag of today, originally designed and made by Betsy Ross after Washington's suggestions. The thesis was illustrated by the various flags spoken of, adding to its impressive value.

On "Plant Societies."

Charles A. Hadden gave a very interesting thesis on "Plant Societies" which showed careful study of the botanical facts. The thesis was illustrated by the stereopticon. A careful study of plants shows that they are not scattered over the earth by random but are arranged in certain groups, known as plant societies.

Water and heat are the most important factors in determining plant societies and by them plants are divided into three families by the different degrees of these elements required for the growth of the plants. Water plants have peculiar qualities, soft stems which offer no resistance to the current and which allow free passage of water through the stalks, and broad leaves which serve as floats.

Marsh plants combine the characteristics of land and water plants. The wonderful growth of tropical vegetation is due to much heat, and moisture, the characteristics of plants having a moderate amount of both, are well known. In the frigid zones only small, scraggly plants are found. Every plant characteristic serves some distinct purpose.

Paper on "Air Pressure."

One of the most interesting theses was that given by Miss Elizabeth Gagan on "Air Pressure." She gave its practical uses, it being used in the barometer, the air pump and the condensing engine. Miss Gagan introduced several very fine experiments, illustrating the great power of air. Upward pressure was demonstrated by filling a glass with water, covering it with a card and inverting it, the air pressure holding the card in place. Downward pressure was illustrated by covering the receiver of the air pump with rubber. Air was exhausted from the receiver and the rubber burst with a loud report. More spectacular experiments were the fountain in vacuo and the raising of a heavy anvil by means of the air pump.

Splendid Violin Solos

The violin solos by Walter Logan, instructor of violin music at Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., were the delight of the evening. He appeared twice on the program playing "American Rhapsody," a beautiful selection of his own composition, and Schubert's "Serenade." For encores he gave "Madrigal" by Simonetti and "Cavatina" by Bohm. Mrs. C. L. Clark played his accompaniments. Mr. Logan is one of the finest violinists in the country and his exquisite music was a rare treat to the audience which was enraptured with his playing.

Phase of Trust Problem

One of the best numbers on the program was Walter E. Smith's oration, "A Phase of the Trust Problem." He handled his subject in a masterly style and his delivery was emphatic and convincing, adding much to the force of his thought. He stated that a critical examination of the many important questions of the day will show that the one thing with the most danger to our civilization and the ideas of self government is the trust problem. Conditions are drifting towards the loss of industrial liberty to which the economic advantages of the trusts cannot compensate. Among the numerous and well known advantages of these great corporations are reduced cost of production and exchange ability to pay greater dividends and greater opportunity to weather financial crises.

The greatest danger of the trust principle lies in the fact that such consolidations produce gigantic institutions which carry on the whole work of production and distribution. The power of such an institution is unlimited and means the destruction of those elements of character which are the foundation of our free institutions and the basis of Anglo-Saxon liberty.

The American people must find an adequate solution of this great problem, some means of retaining the industrial advantages of the trusts without losing one iota of personal freedom. This may be by governmental control or by some system yet to be evolved but whatever the solution it must be found by the American people.

No Fixed Boiling Point

Another of the theses to which interesting experiments added greatly, was on "Influence of Pressure on the Boiling Point," by Iva N. Snyder. She showed that the general idea that the boiling point is a fixed one is a mistaken one. It depends on the air pressure which holds it in the form of a liquid. Water boils at 212 degrees Fahrenheit only when there is a pressure of fifteen pounds on a square inch. A liquid has an indefinite number of boiling points and all water is not equally hot when it boils. She showed by experiments how water in a bulb, from which the air above the bulb had been exhausted, would boil simply by taking the bulb in her hand.

Other interesting experiments of a similar nature were given. This knowledge is used practically in boiling sugar, in distilling vegetable oils and in other processes where substances are apt to be injured when kept at a high pressure.

On "Seed Dispersal"

A most excellent thesis on "Seed Dispersal" was given by Miss Jennie J. Cleland and the knowledge which her thesis contained was given in an entertaining manner. She presented some novel facts concerning the dispersal of seeds for which nature has provided many contrivances. Wind, water, birds and animals are the important agents and man plays no small part. The wind is especially effective with such plants as the milkweed and dandelion. Some seeds can travel over 900 miles in the sea without being harmed. Fruit pits are thrown away and thus peaches traveled from Persia where the family originated. Seeds are carried in many accidental ways, in the earth on birds' claws, clinging to man's clothing or to the tools of emigrants. Plants easily adapt themselves to their surroundings. The thesis was illustrated with handsome stereopticon views.

A Paper on "Golf."

A number especially enjoyed by the audience was "Golf" ably presented by Burns W. Brewer. He gave the history of golf from an early date, saying that its record is woven into Scottish history from the beginning of recorded time. James IV is the first Scotch monarch who figures formally in the golfing record. James VI, afterward James I of England introduced the game into that country and soon golf clubs were established throughout the kingdom, the most noted being St. Andrew's Golf club, organized in 1754. The game has grown in popularity in England and nearly all the British possessions. The oldest club in the United States is the St. Andrews club of Yonkers, New York.

Golf was introduced into Wisconsin by Alex. Galbraith of this city, who was elected the first president of the St. Annisippi Golf club organized in 1895.

The speaker then showed how the local grounds are laid out and told the principals on which the game is played. He closed by saying that the devotion of a golfer to his sport is only equalled by the contempt of him who looks upon it for the first time. The secret of its fascination rests largely in the fact that it beats the player and he in his perversity, strives the harder to secure the unattainable.

"Our New Library."

Another number which had a special interest for the audience was "Our New Library" by Annie L. London. She was so fortunate as to be able to show the people the plans which have been drawn by Architect Jennings and which will be subject only to slight changes. After paying a neatly worded tribute to Mr. Carnegie and the late F. S. Eldred, she told what the library should be, an educational center, and then explained the interesting detail of the plans. It made a splendid feature of the commencement exercises.

Quaint New Orleans.

Unique and very interesting was "Quaint Quarters of New Orleans," presented by Ella E. Lowry and handsomely illustrated with stereopticon views of one of the most beautifully picturesque cities in our country. Among the places described were Jackson Square, the most historic spot in Louisiana; the surrounding antique buildings, the Cabildo where the Spanish court holds its sessions in the very room where the official ceremonies of the Louisiana purchase were performed, the St. Louis cathedral, the United States mint, the U. S. custom house; the Creole quarters with their unique houses and narrow streets; the cemeteries which are peculiar to that city and in which the tombs are built above ground.

Farce a Closing Feature

The closing feature of the evening was a farce written largely by Misses Mable Holloway and Hazel Willey. The farce centered around the killing of a cow by the Junior football team and was very amusing. The first scene was in a girl's parlor, the girls having gathered together to make class banners when the boys arrived to tell the news of the accident.

The honors of this scene were largely carried off by Zoe Carrier and Juliette Bostwick and by Arthur Baumann as Mr. Mayne.

The next scene was, the trial and it was creditably done. Will Ryan was simply immense as the plaintiff, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth O'Dorgan, and Grace Miller was equally as clever as the German witness, Alice Ester, her daughter, serving as interpreter. Claude Holloway made a fine "nigger" witness; his dialect being splendid.

Lloyd Porter as the judge, Mabel Holloway and Frank Kent as the attorney, Hazel Willey as the flippant witness, and Edward Barron and Richard Griffiths, as Arthur Ryan and Ross Bump, were all good. The farce pleased the audience and was liberally applauded.

This exhibition will make an extensive display of the work of the school in this department, which is far in advance of most similar institutions, so that Wisconsin may well be proud of what the school has accomplished in this direction.

There will be pictures in oil, in water colors, in crayon or charcoal and in India ink. Sewing in many forms will be illustrated from plain work in the beginning of the course, when the little girls learn various stitches, to the more elaborate designs in embroidery and the triumphs of the art of dressmaking. The complete course in bench work, carving, turning pattern making, and joinery, with architectural and mechanical drawing will also be shown.

This exhibit will be taken to Buffalo early in July and will probably form one of the attractions of the Wisconsin State Building at the Pan-American.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

The announcement that that brilliant example of a representative American play, "Nathan Hale," by Clyde Fitch, will shortly be presented here should be welcomed with delight by all lovers of the drama as well as by all in whom the stirring appeal to patriotism that is contained in this play strikes a responsive chord. Not alone does the play enlist one's sympathy of the sublime in sentiment, but also one's sense of the materially beautiful is catered to in the magnificent scenery and costumes, made and designed from old plates and other relics of the Revolution. All these will be exactly the same that caused such favorable comment during the play's successful run at the Knickerbocker theater, New York. Although "the play's the thing," no expense has been spared in securing the best artists available for the various characters. The company presenting the play is a large and expensive one. "Nathan Hale" will be played by Howard Kyle, one of our best known serious actors, who formerly played leading roles with Modjeska, Frederick Warde, Louis James and other leading stars.

NEWS AND NOTES OF BADGER STATE

The mad dog scare in the town of New Holstein has not yet subsided, and the farmers of that vicinity are keeping their guns loaded for all stray dogs seen on their farms. The outside of the town limits and East Brotherton farmers have become somewhat excited and seem to have good reason to be. While Richard Wilbersheid and family were sitting in their home they noticed a strange dog come into their yard. The animal was frothing at the mouth and rushed upon Mr. Wilbersheid's porch where the dog was lying and bit the dog. The strange dog then started off and ran into a vacant building across the road. How many dogs have been bitten in the town of New Holstein and East Brotherton it is hard to determine, but many have been killed by farmers who will take no chances on their dogs showing signs of hydrophobia.

The annual camp meeting of the Seven Day Adventists will be held in Grand Rapids the next two weeks. The grounds are located on the eastern side of the city in a large pine grove. Three large tents have been erected in which German, Norwegian and English will be preached at the same time by most prominent elders of that religion. There is in the neighborhood of 2,500 people in attendance, most of whom will live in small tents surrounding the large ones. Bethel, the Adventist settlement in the northern part of the county, will be largely represented and have charge of all arrangements for the meeting.

John Heffron, whose home was formerly in Milwaukee, was killed in the Philippines, June 1, while in the United States service. Mr. Heffron had served nearly three years, and in his last letter he wrote he was preparing to return home at the expiration of his term of enlistment.

It will offer land aggregating a value of $11,000, on condition that the synod builds a college at a cost of $10,000 within a year, or land valued at $32,000, if the synod will pay a debt of $5,000 of the investment association and build the school at once.

RAILROAD NEWS.

The Northwestern road has voluntarily advanced the pay of the shop men at Baraboo and at the old Lake Shore shops at Kaukauna, 5 per cent, all through, with a half holiday on Saturdays. The wages of machinists, blacksmiths, boilermakers, tin-smiths and their helpers are increased, 150 men being advanced at Kaukauna alone.

The Milwaukee road has originated a new method of loading and unloading rails, or rather Roadmaster Edward Laas of that road at Elgin, has originated the method and invented the machine and the road has adopted it. Mr. Laas's machine is a derrick worked by compressed air, the power being taken from the air brake reservoirs. The derrick is built on a push car that can be mounted on a flat car and moved from car to car by either hand power or by the locomotive. The boom of the derrick is long enough to reach over the side of the car and pick up rails from the right of way and load them onto the car next to the one on which the derrick rests. In loading into box cars or unloading from them the rails are slid onto a flat car and the derrick lifts them off. The road is following the custom where the road is double tracked, of piling the rails between the tracks so that the derrick can handle them from either track.

The London board of Trade has been investigating the vibrations caused by the underground railway, and has found that the greatest amount of vibration comes from springless locomotives, and it has now determined to purchase a number of specially designed American locomotives provided with springs to handle the underground traffic.

The Northern Pacific railroad moved the longest train on record May 17. The train consisted of 120 empty and five loaded box cars, and was 5,530 feet, or a little over a mile long. It was hauled between Jamestown and Fargo, on the level prairie, by one large compound freight engine.

The Rock Island road is planning to build into Kansas City, and will probably use the Milwaukee road's bridge to cross the Missouri river.

Perfect Health

Is within the reach of almost every woman. The weakness, nervousness and irritability from which so many women suffer is in general due to disease of the delicate womanly organism. When the disease is cured the general health is re-established.

Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well. It promotes regularity, dries disagreeable and enfeebling drains, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. When these diseases are cured, headache, backache, nervousness and weakness are cured also.

"I was very weak and nervous when I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery,' about a year ago," writes Mrs. M. E. Everett, of 89 Oxford Street, Woodstock, Ont. "I had been suffering for seven long months, and had taken medicine from a physician all the time, but it seemed to make the feel much worse. My stomach was so bad (so my doctor told me), and I was in such a state that I would try the least noise. I felt irritable at all times; was not able to do any of my own housework; had to keep help all the time. How I suffered God and myself alone know. I was greatly discouraged when I commenced taking your medicines, but the first bottle seemed to help me. I took five bottles of 'Favorite Prescription,' two of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' also two vials of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. I can highly recommend these medicines to all who suffer as I did. I never had better health than I now enjoy, and it is all owing to Dr. Pierce's medicines."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

THE GRADUATES.

Fifty-seven young people receive their diplomas and go out into life from the Janesville High school this week. To say that they are a credit to the school as well as to themselves, is but stating a simple truth. While the diploma is not a passport to success, it is a certificate of commendation, and a token of honor to every recipient. It carries with it ability, perseverance and intelligence, as well as responsibility, for the world has a right to expect something of the High school graduate.

The test of time alone will determine how well the equipment is used. The ambition that secured the diploma is still with the individual member of the class, and it will not be satisfied until higher attainment is achieved. This does not necessarily mean in purely literary work, which is very commendable if back of the ambition is a purpose, but it means in any and every field of opportunity, where human destiny is wrought out by faithful application.

Some of the girls of the class will graduate in a few years in the domestic department of life. The certificate that crowns this fortunate member with the title of "Mrs." may introduce her to a humble home, but as she stands upon its threshold, happy, yet apprehensive of the new responsibilities, she is privileged to know that the crowning glory of womanhood is within her grasp.

Others who are not so highly favored will go out into the various avenues where women work, and make for themselves a name and place in the busy world of activity. It is possible for every girl in this fair land to win success, and there are many prizes that are not tailor made.

The boys possess larger opportunities, and are open to severe criticism if they do not win some special laurels. Any boy who goes out from a high school with all the brain and mind equipment that the modern school furnishes, has no right to be satisfied with a moderate degree of success. If his ambition prompts him to take up a profession, then by all means strengthen the foundation by a reinforcement from university and college, and after thorough preparation go on to develop special talent that the profession demands.

The professional age, like all others, is rapidly assuming the demand for specialists, in almost every department. The physician, and the surgeon, the oculist, and eye and ear specialist, have taken the place of the doctor. In the department of law half a dozen channels are open for special work, and these conditions are true of almost every profession. This means increased opportunities, with better chances for success.

If the mind turns to commercial or industrial life, then by all means get out into its activities and develop it in natural and practical ways. Merchants are made in the counting room and behind the counter, and manufacturers in the shops and factories. These are the practical school rooms that no other fountain of knowledge pretends to compete with in the industrial and commercial world.

The boy who misses this practical department during the years of his development and who attempts to supply the loss by theoretical knowledge based on text books, has met with a loss from which he can never recover.

There is no limit to the measure of success that any young man may attain in the business world, if he possesses the genius, the honesty, and the perseverance to master some specialty and faithfully develop it. Don't be a merchant, but be "the merchant." Have ambition to own "the store" of the town, and keep so constantly before the public and so thoroughly cultivate the confidence of the public, that universal recognition and patronage will follow as a natural result. Success always follows "the man" in every department of work. May it attend every member of the class of nineteen hundred and one.

COMPULSORY REFORM.

The great packing house of Libby, McNeil & Libby, employing 20,000 men, recently issued an order prohibiting profanity, and the use of tobacco while their men were on duty. The penalty for disobedience is immediate discharge.

That is reformation, enforced by law, and it is the only kind of compulsory reform that is effective for that class of evils. Railroad companies refuse to employ men who drink, and they enforce the rule so strictly, that their employees in the operating department are noted for their sobriety. This sort of reformation is worth more in practical results, than all the state prohibitory laws that were ever enacted, and contains a lesson for radical temperance reformers, whose energies are wasted in a futile effort to pass and enforce impractical laws.

It has always been found that the best way to reform a boy, is to prevent him from going astray. If it were possible to turn out a generation of young men, with good morals, and clean habits, the work of temperance reformation would cease for the lack of material to work upon.

While it may not be possible to do this, it is possible, if reform energy is intelligently turned in this direction, to approximate it so closely, that the results will be a revelation. Every large employer of labor wants about him a class of workmen that are free from vice, and the habits that contribute to it. The lines are being drawn closer every year, and the action of the railroads and packing house, is being more generally adopted. The time will come when employers generally will demand men of clean morals and good habits. This is true now so far as the commercial world is concerned, and the industrial world is rapidly adopting the same policy.

With the moral training of boys, if they can be made to realize, as they approach young manhood, that the price of success in any honorable calling, is cleanliness of life, a long stride will be taken along the line of preservation, and that is worth infinitely more to any young man than reformation.

The average boy does some thinking for himself before he is twenty-one. Active life is an untried experiment, but he yearns to become a part of it, and if the right influences are present to lend him a helping hand, and suggest some of the pitfalls that crowd the pathway of young manhood, he is inclined to listen and heed.

The man or woman, be they father, mother or friend, who succeeds in starting a boy out right in life, is doing God's work, and every young man needs this kind of helpful influence.

The boy is dull of ear, and slow of perception, who turns away from this kind of solicitude. With more of this kind of work in the home and school, supplemented by the rigid demand of the Libby McNeil and Libby pattern, the next generation of men will be stalwart moral giants.

Population in Samoa.

Washington, June 6.—In accordance with instructions from the navy department Commandant Benjamin F. Tilley, the naval commandant at the United States station at Tutuila, Samoa, has forwarded to Washington a report upon the population of those islands of the Samoan group under the jurisdiction of the United States. He has ascertained that the population of Tutuila is 4,000 and of the Nuanua groups 2,000, including adults and children. In addition to the native population there are on the islands approximately 100 whites.

Sites Offered for the Fair.

St. Louis, Mo., June 6.—The battle of the sites began in earnest yesterday at the World's Fair headquarters when committees from site associations appeared before the executive committee of the Louisiana exposition company.

Two sites were offered yesterday, one comprising 1,631 acres located in the southwestern section of the city and one of 833 acres in the northwestern district. The hearing will be continued two days longer in order to give other site associations an opportunity to extol the advantages of their properties.

Alabama Suffrage Scheme.

Montgomery, Ala., June 6.—Among the suffrage schemes introduced in the constitutional convention yesterday was one by Mr. Jenkins of Wilcox, which provides that the voter must read and write, or understand the constitution, pay taxes on $300 worth of property, or have fought in a war or be descended from a soldier. It provides, however, that an ex-slave of good character can be put on the roll, although he fills none of the other requirements.

Father Phillips Not Poisoned.

New York, June 6.—The report of George A. Ferguson, an analytical chemist, who made an examination of the stomach of Rev. E. S. Phillips of Hazleton, Pa., who was found dead in the apartments of "Dr." Kirke Stanley, three weeks ago, shows that Father Phillips was not poisoned. Stanley will be arraigned before the coroner today.

Marries Justice Brewer.

Burlington, Vt., June 6.—David J. Brewer, associate justice of the United States Supreme court, was married to Miss Emma Miner Mott of Washington, D. C., in the afternoon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. G. Atkins of the First Congregational church at the home of Mrs. J. L. Hall, who is a niece of Mrs. Brewer. No announcements or invitations had been given out and only members of the families were present.

Troops Ordered to Manila.

Washington, June 6.—Orders have been given for the headquarters, field staff and band of the Twenty-sixth Infantry, together with all officers of that regiment, on duty at Fort McPherson, Ga., and a detachment of sixty unassigned recruits for the Second Battalion of the Twenty-sixth Infantry, to proceed to San Francisco in time to take passage on the army transport sailing June 25 for Manila.

Storm Fatal in Janesville.

Zanesville, O., June 6.—As a result of one of the worst wind and electrical storms ever known here one man is dead, two persons fatally injured, and more than a dozen are slightly hurt. The storm struck the tents of a circus, destroying one of the smaller ones and wrecking the big one. More than a dozen persons were hurt in the wreck, and the stampede which accompanied it. Two will die. One is a woman. At Hose Farm a new building, on which five carpenters were at work, was struck by lightning and one, William Giles, was killed.

Widow on Trial for Murder.

Kansas City, Mo., June 6.—A jury has been secured in the case of Lulu Prince Kennedy, charged with murdering her husband, Philip H. Kennedy, and Prosecutor Hadley made his opening address. He said the state would show that the prisoner's motive for killing Kennedy was to avoid the publicity incident to the trial of the dead man's suit to annul the marriage into which he alleged her father and brother had forced him. It also would be shown, he said, that another motive was to cover the conspiracy to which the defendant and her relatives were parties.

Band at Woman's Funeral.

Columbia, Ind., June 6.—At the funeral of Mrs. J. W. Prall the city band headed the funeral procession and played at the cemetery. The band was hired by Dr. Prall, the wealthy husband of the deceased, at her request.

ATTEMPT TO HOLD UP ST. PAUL ROAD

BUSINESS MEN INDIGNANT OVER ACTION OF COUNCIL.

Danger That the Passenger and Freight Depots May Be Lost on Account of Unreasonable Demands—Merchants Will Attend the Council Meeting Monday Night.

The people of Janesville may not realize that there is great danger that the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road may not spend the amount of money on improvements which they had planned. Prominent business men are not slow in accusing the aldermen of an attempt to hold up the road and assert that unless the council comes to time the new passenger and freight depots will be lost to the city at least for the present.

One local merchant was in Chicago yesterday and in conversation with one of the leading officials of the road learned that the company feels outraged at the demands which the council has made. The official said that the building of a new bridge at Franklin street would cost in the neighborhood of $28,000, an expense which the company deems unnecessary and is not inclined to consider seriously. He was also very indignant over the city's delay in establishing a grade on Prospect avenue and construed it as a deliberate attempt to hinder the work on the freight depot as the laying of the tracks must be determined by the established grade of the street. Many prominent business men feel that the square thing is not being done by the railroad company. They agree with the officials that the work demanded at Franklin street is unreasonable and assert that the stone support in the center of the bridge is of little consequence on a street so infrequently used as Franklin street.

They do not blame the company for refusing to spend money on expensive one-span bridges when the one now in use answers every purpose. The company expects to spend thousands of dollars on new improvements which will be of value to the city and the claim is commonly made that it is most unjust to ask them to spend a large amount of money on old work for the privilege of giving the city passenger and freight depots which will benefit the city.

It is the feeling that the city should encourage great improvements, whether made by individuals or corporations and it is very probable that a committee of business men will attend the council meeting next Monday evening to see if some fair arrangement cannot be reached.

TEAM OF HORSES ROLL INTO RIVER

While at work on the excavation for the new building at the Janesville Barb Wire Works this morning one of the teams hitched to a wheeled scraper slipped over the race bank and rolled into the river. The dirt is being dumped along the bank of the river and this rig went a trifle too near the edge and the horses lost their footing and rolled over taking the scraper with them. One of the animals were rescued at once but the other poor fellow nearly lost his life. "With horse sense" he kept his head above water for nearly fifteen minutes until the rescuers could disengage him from the scraper. The driver escaped unhurt, and the vehicle was hauled out later.

THE FIFTY BEST BAPTISTS PICNIC

Scheme Started By the Late Rev. Mr. Kempton Carried Out By King's Daughters.

As an incentive for more regular attendance on the part of young people at divine service the Rev. Arthur C. Kempton, pastor of the Baptist church, entered into an agreement with them by which he promised to give the fifty who attended the most regularly a picnic to be known as the "pastor's picnic" and to be held this month. Each one was provided with a card which was punched every Sunday that the holder was present.

After Rev. Kempton's death interest was diminished and the prospects of a picnic were not favorable. The King's Daughters of the church thereupon took it upon themselves to carry out their late pastor's plan and the picnic will be given to the "fifty best" on Tuesday of next week, June 11. It will be held in the Mole Grove near the cemetery and of the street car line and the trip will be made on the street cars. The King's Daughters will provide refreshments and a very jolly time is anticipated by the participants.

TWO WOMEN ARE KILLED BY TRAIN

Mrs. Harold Erickson and Miss Ella Erickson of Beloit, Are the Victims of a Sad Accident.

Beloit, Wis., June 6.—An accident in this city yesterday afternoon resulted in the death of two women, and the injuring of a boy. Miss Harold Erickson, wife of a well-known farmer, and her sister-in-law, Miss Ella Erickson, were victims.

They were driving in a closed carriage across the tracks of the Chicago & Northwestern road at about 3 o'clock in the northern part of the town, when their vehicle was struck by a passenger train. Both women and the boy were thrown sixty feet. The train was stopped at once and it was found that Miss Erickson was dead. Mrs. Erickson was dying and the child unconscious.

They were brought to the depot where the ambulance was in waiting. Mrs. Erickson died at the hospital. A coroner's jury began on the case, and adjourned until one o'clock this afternoon. Mrs. Erickson leaves a child two years old, besides the little boy.

BARABOO PEOPLE ARE HEAVY LOSERS

Rock County Cream Firm Swindlers "Got Into Them" for About Twenty Thousand Dollars.

The Rock County Creamery men extended their swindling operations far and wide. A Baraboo dispatch says:

"A commission firm at Janesville has succeeded in swindling the grocery merchants in this vicinity out of $20,000. The firm had several men out buying all the butter and eggs that could be secured and paying fifty cents more a case for eggs and two cents more a pound for butter than any other commission firm in country. Most of the grocery merchants shipped to Janesville all the way from ten to one hundred cases of eggs. After awaiting over the usual time for their returns the merchants became alarmed and began to investigate. W. Nehs, representing the merchants of this city went to Janesville yesterday, where he met hundreds of men from all parts of the state who were there on the same mission. It was found that the goods had been received and transferred to other parties and that the purchasers had disappeared."

Arguments Are Completed Chicago, June 6.—The taking of testimony in the noted insurance conspiracy case against Dr. Unger, Wayland Brown and Frank Smiley ended today, and addresses to the jury commenced.

Joplin, Mo., June 6.—A zinc mining deal involving $8,000,000 worth of property has been consummated in London. The deal, promoted by J. D. Cameron, of Joplin, embraces many rich producing zinc mines, mills and leases, and several thousand acres of undeveloped mineral lands. Its consummation is announced in a cablegram. The English syndicate will secure other mines and seek to control enough of the output to dictate prices. The entire $8,000,000 bond issued to pay for the property has been placed in London.

SEVENTEEN CASES OF SMALLPOX

Word Received Here That the Genuine Disease Prevails in the City of Boscobel.

M. D. Taylor received a letter today stating that seventeen cases of genuine small pox had broken out at Boscobel, this state, and that a strict quarantine is being maintained. The writer asserted that there is no mistake about the disease and that it was not varicella, but genuine small pox.

START OUT RIGHT.

Don't go piano shopping with the idea of seeing how much you can save on a piano. Start out with the idea of selecting a thoroughly good piano—one that is going to be satisfactory for many years. That piano is the justly celebrated Hardman, which the makers claim is "The only piano that improves with use." We handle other well known makes, such as the Newman Bros., Lester, Keller Bros., and others. We also handle cheap pianos—if such a piano is your choice.

GEN. CHAFFEE'S CRITICISM

Says Allies Have Forfeited Right to Reproach Chinese.

SHOW LACK OF DISCRETION.

Natives Are Inflamed by the Unnecessary Expeditions—Protracted Stay of the Foreign Forces Declared to Have Been an Unwise Move.

Manila, June 6.—General Chaffee has arrived here from China, and is the guest of General MacArthur. General Chaffee, in talking of the Chinese question, said he believed that the allies had lost all their gains by their protracted stay. They had forfeited every right to reproach the Chinese by their persevering aggressiveness, unnecessary expeditions, which had inflamed the natives, and their insistence upon executions, all of which had placed foreigners in a more unfavorable light in Chinese eyes than before the Boxer troubles. Russia's strong influence at the court has been improved by her moderation. General Chaffee went on to say that a settlement of the Chinese question hinges on a satisfactory allotment of the indemnity. He does not expect definite developments until this matter assumes tangibility. The entire attention of the Chinese, the General said, is directed to obtaining the evacuation of the province of Chihli by the foreign troops, and hence they are willing to accede to all reasonable demands. They earnestly desire to resume their government, but the question of guarantees for indemnities is a serious one which will require much patience and forbearance to settle. Meantime lawlessness is spreading in the province, as no imperial troops are allowed there. After the evacuation by the allies the return of normal conditions will be gradual. Until then China will have no opportunity to prove her sincerity. It is manifestly impossible for her to do so before normal conditions are re-established.

In conclusion, General Chaffee said that the Chinese problem was not yet solved. He believes that Russia intends to maintain her present influence in North China, but does not intend to extend it, except in Manchuria.

DEADLY WORK OF MANIAC

Drunken Man Tries to Wipe Out Family.

MURDERS HIS DAUGHTER.

Wife Wounded Fatally, and Mother Shot—Six Others Are Fired at, but Not Hurt—Brother-in-Law Stops Career of Crime.

Beaverton, Mich., June 6.—William Arnell, Jr., proprietor of the Commercial House, while insane from liquor shot and killed his 4-year-old daughter, Rea, fatally wounded his wife, shot his mother, Mrs. William Arnell, in the arm, and also fired a bullet at his sister, Mabel, and at another sister, Mrs. Samuel Dopp, but failed to hit them. He wounded his brother Frank in the arm. Samuel Dopp secured a shotgun and wounded the murderer, but not seriously. Arnell was captured and hurried to the county jail at Gladwin, eleven miles distant. The excitement was intense, and the man probably would have been lynched but for the prompt action of the officers in taking him out of the village. After his arrest Arnell recovered his reason and declared he knew naught of his series of crimes. There was apparently no motive for the deed, except that Arnell was insane from liquor. He had been on a spree for a week.

Little Girl Hides Under a Bed.
Arnell returned home at 10 a. m., and went up-stairs. His little daughter, Rea, heard him coming and hid under the bed. The father peered under and, catching sight of her, deliberately fired a bullet into her body, killing her. Mrs. Arnell, hearing the shot, ran to find what had happened to Rea, when the husband met her and shot her in the head, inflicting a fatal wound. The mother, Mrs. William Arnell, who has been a victim of paralysis for years, was sitting helplessly in her chair when Arnell saw her. He fired at her. The bullet struck the aged woman in the arm, inflicting a painful but not serious wound. Arnell went into the street, where he met his sister, Mabel, and fired at her. Mrs. Samuel Dopp, another sister, was the next object of his wrath, and he shot at her, too, but neither bullet took effect and the women fled.

Stopped by a Charge of Shot.
Arnell's brother, Frank, and Sam Dopp heard the shots and hurried to the scene. Frank tried to stop the murderer, and was wounded in the arm by a bullet fired by Arnell. Dopp got a shotgun, and when it became evident that the madman would not desist so long as the ammunition held out, shot. The charge took effect in Arnell's head, and he fell.

MISS ANTHONY STILL A POWER.

Close of Annual Convention of National Woman's Suffrage Association.
Minneapolis, June 6.—Aside from the coming into power of the younger element in the National Woman's Suffrage association, the most notable feature of the annual convention which has closed here was the influence wielded by Susan B. Anthony. The word of the venerable honorary president of the association is still law on nearly all important questions of policy. In the morning the amendment to the constitution making all conventions movable was brought up, and was killed largely through the influence of Miss Anthony, who said that to take the biennial meeting away from Washington would be to undo the work of thirty years. After the defeat of this plan Henry Blackwell proposed a compromise, which was adopted, to the effect that a biennial conference be held following each Washington convention in the capital of some state. Invitations were extended for the convention of 1903 by Milwaukee, Atlantic City and New Orleans. It was voted to hold the conference next year in Charleston in connection with the Interstate and West Indian exposition to be held there.

A TRYING POSITION

Janesville Readers Will Appreciate This Advice.

A constant itching tries your patience. Nothing so annoying. Nothing so irritating as itching piles or eczema. To scratch the irritation makes it worse, to leave it alone means misery. Some citizens can tell you how to be free from these troubles. Read the following:

Mr. L. Lawrence, of 408 S. Franklin St., engineer at the Janesville Electric Light Co., says: "I tried about everything recommended for itching of the skin, but found nothing to give me relief until I struck Doan's Ointment at the People's drug store. I had an affection of the skin on my face caused from the burning oil about the engine and dynamo. My face itched and annoyed me, and rubbing it only made it worse and made it sore. I could hardly stand shaving for the skin broke and bled. A few applications of Doan's Ointment removed the itching and healed up my face in a few days. I would not be without this remedy in my house, and I certainly recommend it to others in need of such a preparation."

Sold for 50 cents per box by all dealers. Foster-Wilbur Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Also on sale at King's Pharmacy.

Remember the name, "Doan's," and take no other.

FAIRBANKS' BOOM; THWART FORAKER

ANNOUNCEMENT OF CANDIDACY WAS PREMATURE.

Caused by Moves on Presidential Board by Men from Ohio—Indications Are That the Ohio Valley Will Again Be the Political Fighting Ground in 1904.

Washington, June 5—Simultaneously with the announcement in the east that Senator Foraker is coming into prominence as a presidential possibility, owing to the decision of the Supreme court in the insular cases, comes a "formal" declaration by Harry New, in Chicago, that Senator Fairbanks is a candidate for the presidency. Evidently Mr. New does not propose to have the oncoming Foraker movement overshadow the candidacy of "the gentleman from Indiana," and so has taken time by the forelock.

It has been the intention of Senator Fairbanks to launch his boom some time next winter or spring, in the meantime taking care of numerous preliminary, and in various ways getting everything in readiness. But Mr. New, who is republican national committeeman from Indiana, after reading the Chicago newspapers of Tuesday about the threatened Foraker movement, determined to wait no longer. He made a "formal" announcement which the Associated Press carried all over the country, and Senator Fairbanks must be considered in the race from this time on.

Strangely enough, the senator, who for some days has been in Washington, does not wholly endorse Mr. New in bringing him out at this time. The Washington correspondents have been trying to interview him, but he usually manages to evade them, and when cornered refuses to talk. To an intimate friend he is reported to have said that he did not quite understand why Harry New should have done what he did. The announcement of the candidacy at this time, he said, was entirely premature, and not calculated to help matters.

Locality May Decide It. Considered in all its bearings and in the light of what little information Senator Fairbanks is willing to throw upon it, Mr. New's announcement in Chicago was simply the act of a zealous friend, who felt impelled to throw the personality of his leader across the path of a rival boom in the hope of breaking its force. Unless Senator Fairbanks changes his mind he will neither deny nor affirm Mr. New's announcement. He cannot deny without offending his Indiana friends, nor can he confirm without laying himself open to suspicion that he has acted unwisely in being an avowed candidate three long years in advance of the convention.

The talk which has been heard during the last weeks and months about Foraker and Hanna of Ohio, Fairbanks of Indiana, and Spooner of Wisconsin, in connection with the republican presidential nomination in 1904; and about Carter Harrison of Illinois in connection with the democratic nomination, is very suggestive. It seems to indicate that locality is to outrank personal fitness in dictating the 1904 nominations.

The Ohio valley is the political fighting ground of the republic. It was the center of the most active campaigning in 1896 and again in 1900. No reason is now apparent why it should not figure even in a larger way in the campaign of 1904. Other things being equal, therefore, it would be desirable for both parties to have candidates who are well known in that section, and in sympathetic and intelligent touch at every point with its various interests.

Should geography be the chief requirement in 1904, it is quite likely that some man from Indiana, for instance, Fairbanks, or some one from Ohio, for instance, Foraker, will be the leading figure in the republican convention of that year. Spooner of Wisconsin, an abler man than either, would also feel sure that his candidacy at that time would assume formidable proportions.

Ohio Valley in the Center.

It will be recalled in this connection that since the time of Grant the political center of gravity has been moving steadily toward the Ohio valley. Grant himself was a native and a legal resident of that region, although he got the presidency on account of his distinguished war record. After him Garfield was elected, a resident of Ohio. In the convention which nominated Garfield there were seven candidates, all but two of whom, Blaine and Edmunds, came from the Ohio valley. The others were Grant, Sherman, E. B. Washburn, William Windom and Garfield.

Each of the great political parties since Grant's time, has never failed to have influential candidates before its conventions from this section of the country, and when it has not nominated them for the first place, it has invariably given them the second place. In 1876 the republican ticket was Hayes and Wheeler; the democratic, Tilden and Hendricks. Hendricks was in that year a formidable candidate for the presidential nomination and at one time it looked as though he might win.

In 1880 the Ohio valley was again recognized by the republicans, as stated above, in the nomination of Garfield for the presidency, while the democrats after nominating Gen. Hancock for the first place, put English of Indiana on the ticket with him. In 1884 the republicans yielding to the commanding spell of a great name, nominated Blaine for the presidency, but thought it wise to place on the ticket with him, Gen. Logan of Illinois.

The democrats in that year nominated Cleveland but gave him as a running mate Thomas A. Hendricks of Indiana. When the democrats were under the necessity of renominating Cleveland in 1888, they nominated Al'en G. Thurman of Ohio for the vice-presidency. The republicans in that year gave the Ohio valley the first place on their ticket in the person of Benjamin Harrison of Indiana, whom they renominated in 1892. Cleveland ran again in 1892 and with him was Stevenson of Illinois. In 1896 and again in 1900, the republicans gave the leading place on their ticket to the Ohio valley, in the person of William McKinley of Ohio.

Announcement a Precaution. In six out of the seven campaigns since 1876, including that year, the republicans, it will thus be seen, have nominated for the presidency some man from the region north of the Ohio river, west of the Alleghenies, and east of the Mississippi river. In the remaining campaign an Illinois man was nominated for the vice-presidency. In 1896 the democrats nominated Bryan, from Nebraska, who was born and brought up in Illinois, and had been a resident of Nebraska less than ten years at the time of his nomination. They put on the ticket with him Sewall of Maine, but in 1900 they gave him Stevenson of Illinois as a running mate. In the seven presidential campaigns since 1876, including that year, the democrats five times gave the vice-presidential nomination to the Ohio valley, and twice the presidential nomination. The claim of that section of the country to the old Virginia title "Mother of Presidents," would, therefore, seem to be pretty well substantiated by the facts.

There is no good reason for believing that there will be any departure from this long continued policy in 1904; and as the friends of Senator Fairbanks of Indiana no doubt felt that there was possible danger to them in the loud talk about Senator Foraker of Ohio, early this week, following the Supreme Court's insular decisions, and said and did things which justified National Committeeman New in making the Chicago announcement regarding Fairbanks.

MRS. MAYBRICK HAS MANY GOOD FRIENDS

Ever Since Her Conviction and Codemnation to Death They Have Pleaded for Her.

Since her conviction and condemnation to death by Justice Stephen, friends of Mrs. Maybrick in England and America have pleaded for her pardon.

Mrs. Maybrick was the daughter of William G. Chandler, a prominent banker of Mobile, Ala., and was born in 1859. When she was seventeen she was married to James Maybrick, who was a dissipated, well-to-do Englishman of forty-two.

Mr. and Mrs. Maybrick lived in Liverpool, where their two children were born. They did not get on well together, and before the death of her husband Mrs. Maybrick had taken steps to procure a divorce.

The day he was taken fatally ill Mr. Maybrick rode to the Wirral races. He went against the advice of his physician and his wife, was caught in the cold and drenched, yet stayed out for lunch and a late dinner. The next day he was taken with a high fever, and his physicians pronounced his illness fatal.

Husband Asked for White Powders. It happened toward the end of his illness that Mr. Maybrick asked during the nurse's absence for some white powders which he kept in his dressing room. These were procured by Mrs. Maybrick and under his direction one powder was mixed with some beef extract. When it was prepared Mr. Maybrick had fallen asleep and Mrs. Maybrick set it aside, not knowing what it was. It was found where she left it by the police and used as evidence against her.

After thirteen days' illness Mr. Maybrick died. The moment he breathed his last breath, Edwin and Michael, stepped forward to accuse his widow of his death. The case was a long one, and when it ended the jury was out but thirty-six minutes, returning a verdict of guilty.

Mrs. Maybrick was sentenced to death. There is no court of criminal appeal in England. A petition of half a million names was quickly secured and influenced by it, Home Secretary Matthews reviewed the case and commuted the sentence to life imprisonment.

Peristent Efforts for Pardon. Then began the efforts of her friends to obtain a pardon from the Queen, the only recourse of a prisoner condemned by an English criminal court. The movement for her release in America is familiar to every one. There is hardly a citizen who has not taken part in it in some way.

But Queen Victoria could not be moved. When she died and King Edward succeeded to the throne the hope of Mrs. Maybrick's friends was revived. In February it was reported that her pardon had been promised. February 11 was said to be set for the day of her release, but government officials denied the story flatly.

AS LONG AS A WOMAN IS HAPPY,
DON'T COMPEL HER TO SPEND MONEY

AS LONG AS A WOMAN IS HAPPY, DON'T COMPEL HER TO SPEND MONEY

Once there was a Lord of Creation who delighted to tell his wife about the peculiarities and weaknesses of women. He was the kind that would wait until he had an audience and then he would spring a good one on the better half. For example, he thought it was great sport to tell how she would do a Sheridan's ride to a department store, just as if she was going to sweep the shelves, and after she got there she would have Tracy, the blond, show her all the spring importations, after which she would buy a dimity for 9 cents, and about a nickel's worth of yelling and have them delivered on a rush order. She was a regular hawk on spotting bargain sales and the monologue artist that lived with her used to tell his friends that she would claw her way into a jam of women and scrap like an Amazon to capture one of the marked down remnants.

The husband lectured her about chasing around from store to store, annoying the salesmen, blocking up the aisles, pawing all kinds of expensive materials and criticising the merchandise, finally ducking away without even showing the color of her money. He said a woman would take one of these undersized valises containing a powder puff, a chew of gum, a glove fastener, a clipping that told how to cure sun-burn and just enough carfare to land her back home again and she would go out and do more jinning and four-flushing than a man would do if he was going to buy a house and lot. He said that when he wanted a hat or necktie or any old thing, he stalked right into the place and said to the man, "Gi me that" without any ifs, ands or buts, and handed over the samoleons. He said there was no need of giving a parade and making a lot of grand stand plays, every time one went out to purchase a few necessities of life.

One day in the early summer he came home ahead of his wife. He always claimed that when a woman went out on a shopping spree she made it a point to loaf down town until about 5:30 so that she could elbow into the evening rush and compel some hollow-eyed man to clutch a strap all the way home.

When she appeared it was evident that she had been gallivanting through the scrimmage. Her sky-piece had a list to the starboard, her frizzes had straightened out on her and her belt buckle had scrouged around until it had her facing sideways. Here was a grand opening for the humorous husband, so he fell back on his stock joke.

"And what has 'little angel-face' been running down today?" he asked. "Did sunshine buy a paper of pins or a nice eleven cent coil of black braid?"

"Nitt!" she replied, stopping short and turning the mackerel eye on him. "You have jolted me so often that I have turned over a new leaf. I knew how you hated to have me price goods and then push them back, so today nothing went back. I bought six embroidered shirt waists, a lace parasol, 22 yards of silklorum that looks like silk and wears better, and a lot of articles that you wouldn't know what they were if I told you the names. Your little bird didn't make any water-haul today, I can promise you that, and if you think I am stringing you, wait until you see the statement. I ran it up to an even hundred so that you would not have to bother with any small change."

She waited for him to rally, but he gave no signs of returning to the scratch, so she sought her own room, leaving him all flattened out.

Moral: As long as she is happy don't compel her to spend more money.—George Ade.

VALET JONES WILL NOT TALK.

Three Attempts to Get Testimony on the Rice Will Fail.

New York, June 6.—Another fruitless attempt has been made by the lawyers interested in the wills purported to have been drawn by William Marsh Rice to take the testimony of the valet Jones, who is now in a private hospital at Forty-fourth street. Jones, who is said to be suffering from ulceration of the stomach and in a very nervous condition, has been in the hospital for about six weeks under guard. On the application of Messrs. Hornblower, Byrne, Miller & Potter, attorneys for Capt. Baker of Texas, who is an executor under both wills, Surrogate Thomas granted an order for taking his testimony before Edward B. Whitney as referee in case he should not be able to appear before the surrogate. Three attempts have been made to examine Jones, but he had caused them to be postponed on the plea that he was not strong enough to answer questions.

Constitution Leaves for Bristol.

Newport, R. I., June 6.—The yacht Constitution, in tow, left the harbor early today for the Herreshoff's works at Bristol, to undergo repairs of the damage wrought by the collapse of her steel mast while on a trial spin outside the harbor yesterday. Considerable rigging trailed along over the port rail as the Constitution started up the bay today, and the big steel boom gave her a decided list to port.

SAVES HIS AGED WIFE.

A Carpenter Sacrifices His Home That He May Care for Invalid.

Cincinnati, O., June 6.—George W. Phillips, an aged carpenter, fought to the last to-day in a legal battle here to keep his wife from being sent to the insane asylum. Seeing the law's recourse failing him, he agreed to give up his modest, but new and handsome home, which he had spent his best years in acquiring as a haven for his old age, and go forth from the city to begin life among strangers if only his wife was left to his care. This agreement was ratified and he will immediately leave his loved home. Neighbors said that Phillips' wife had made threats against them and that she was crazy. He says she is only melancholy from grief over the death, seventeen years ago, of their only son.

Washington, D. C., June 6.—The Commissioner of Pensions yesterday issued a report of the work of the bureau for eleven months, ending May 31. In it he says: "For account of service in the war with Spain there have been granted 2,369 pensions to invalids and 1,156 pensions to widows and dependents. There will be an increase in the number of pensioners on the rolls at the close of the present fiscal year, June 30, 1901, over the previous year."

Governor to Live on Steamer.

Washington, June 6.—The Navy Department is considering an extensive overhauling of the Supply, with the view of making that vessel an unusually efficient station ship at Guam. Extensive quarters will be provided for the governor of the island and his staff, with the expectation that the entire governmental party will live aboard the steamer instead of occupying the primitive quarters available on the island.
